A MARRYING INCOME.

University of Vermont Seniors Set $2,-500 to $3,000 the Price.

Burlington, June 10 .- Students a the University of Vermont are ready to marry, if the proper financial condi-tions can be met. A vote was recently taken among the members of the senio taken among the members of the senior class, and one of the questions asked was, "What do you consider the proper income for marriage?" A very few who, perhaps, do not wish to marry set very high incomes, but the majority believe that a young married couple can do very well upon an income ranging from $2,500 to $3,000.

The person who seemed less troubled

Fidow Was Made Sole Beneficiary of Ex-Governor's Will.

Ludlow, June 10.—The will of the te former Governor Allen M. Fletch, who was considered one of the ealthiest men in the state, was ofted for probate here yesterday. His idow, Mrs. Mary E. Fletcher, was used as the sole beneficiary.

The Vermont investigating commission, appointed by Governor Hartness upnder a joint resolution of the last legislature, and composed of Lawrence Bullard of Windsor, chairman, J. M. Hamilton of Rutland, and E. H. Jones of Waitsfield also attended. Reports were given on the work of tuberculosis eradication in the different states represented, and scientific problems connected with tuberculosis eradication were discussed, including the relation of bovine tuberculosis to public health.
